Does anyone remember the time when it was possible to walk across the campus without ruining your shoes?

Reflections & Revelations

In the scheme of things, a "lifetime" is but a minute fraction of the timeline from day one to infinite. During this short period our primary function is to encounter and forget relationships with others. Some are fortunate enough to be liberated from the drone-like existence of most by seeking a greater understanding of life. This is called "higher education." Those of us who are truly lucky experience 3 revelations while in college. They are: the learning of some functional means in which to make a living, gaining the ability to think for one's self, and third, but not least, the creation of relationships that will last a lifetime. We Hawks are truly blessed because we chose to attend UMES.

To truly understand the phenomenon known as the "Hawk Family," you would have to experience it. The relationships and associations that exist are a unique product of the UMES environment. Perhaps the rural setting of Princess Anne aided in the development of our close-knit family, and the lack of activities caused increased camaraderie. From Freshman Orientation to Commencement; from the SDC to the ATC; and from the Campus Pals to the Campus Ministry, we have all been allowed to share these memories so that we may recall them time and time again. So, for all Hawks — past and present — I present to you the best of the current UMES family ... The Hawk '93!

- Karl D. White

The race for '93-'94 SGA offices proved that election-year fever hit UMES in a big way. In the aftermath, these three students found a quiet (and clean) place to talk.

Campus Life

Who are these men?

What do you want?!?
Artis Booker is caught in bed by our photographer. Look out Sean! He looks as if he wants to growl at you for this one.

STUDENT LIFE

UMES students work diligently in their effort to achieve success in life. However, all work and no play makes us dull. Time out has to be taken in order to enjoy the finer things in life. Whether it's a quick game of ball, studying, or just spending the day in bed, UMES students prove that college life isn't all work, work, work!

It's not Michael Jordan or Isiah Thomas, but it could be Magic — because there is no ball. Anyhow, these two brothers enjoy a game of one-on-one basketball. We bet they can really jam. Game anyone?

Dormitory Life

Do you remember the Blackout of Fall '89, or the Spring Semester water fights of '90 and '91? If you don't then you probably didn't live on campus back then. Living on campus is an integral part of college life that no college student should miss. Having the opportunity to meet new friends and sleeping until 15 minutes before class are only two of the benefits of staying on campus. Being on your own teaches you how to be responsible, and how to respect others as well.

Twana is all work and no play while she tries to proofread a paper. Who says that Angels aren't any good?

No, Izzard, I really don't have $5 you can borrow. Cheer up, you won't always have to ask for money. I hear Criminal Justice jobs pay well these days!

Waters Dining Hall - An Unforgettable Experience!

Hangin' Out?

Looking for a quiet place to study, or do you just want to "chill" with your friends? UMES has at least two places to accommodate your needs: the Student Development Center (SDC) and the Frederick Douglass Library. The SDC houses the offices of the SGA, Student Activities, Student Publications, Career Planning and Placement, Basic Skills, and Upward Bound. The university bookstore, and mailroom are also located in this building. Looking for a party on Friday or Saturday nights? You don't have to go any further than the SDC Ballroom. You can always find a friend hanging out there.

For the more serious-minded student, the newly-renovated Frederick Douglass Library is the place to be. This modernized facility holds hundreds of thousands of books and reference materials for those who need to study or do research. If you are one of those people who go to the library looking for a friend, then don't forget to bring a book. After all, you have to make it look like you're there to work!

What's so funny?
SDC Supervisor, Monique Potter looks like she doesn't get the joke. But then again, who said that being eight months pregnant is easy?

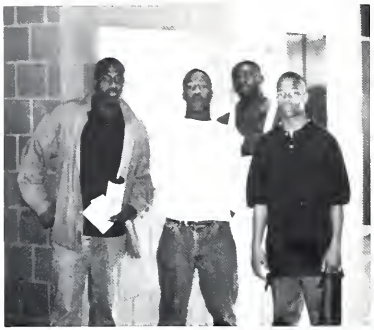

Senior, Martice Armstrong enlists the help of one of the librarians while trying to finish a paper. And who said that English majors wait until the last minute to do their work?

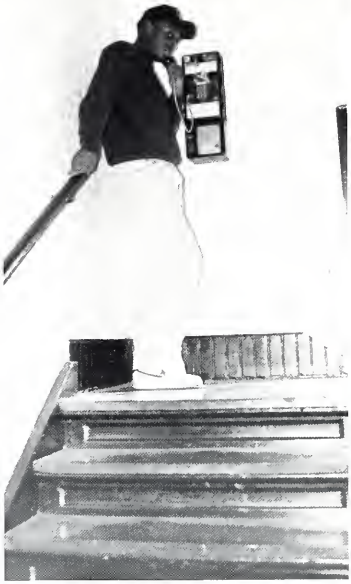

What seems to be the favorite pastime of UMES' male students? Next to basketball, it's definitely pool. These guys (left) take advantage of the empty tables to get in a game between classes.

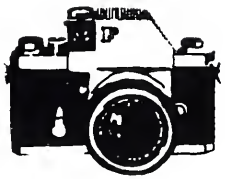

Catching a few minutes alone seems to be no problem for Senior, Chris Green, as he finds an opportunity to spend some time on the phone in Harford Hall.

Who did our camera catch in the SDC early last semester? We don't know, but from the looks of these guys maybe we should.

What's going on?

Hawks Caught in the Act!!

Who doesn't belong in this picture? Under the watchful eye of Senior Class President, Ron Cropper, class queens Thomasina, Drena, and Lorrie wait patiently for meeting to begin.

A favorite pastime of many students is a game of cards. This activity has become so popular that the Office of Student Activities has instituted "Game Night."

Here's one way to keep out of trouble. Rodney Izzard shows that students don't necessarily have to leave their rooms to have a good time.

Hmmm ... Antione Harley seems to be concentrating on studying for an upcoming test. Don't fake the funk, Antoine! We know that you are really thinking about what you're having for dinner!

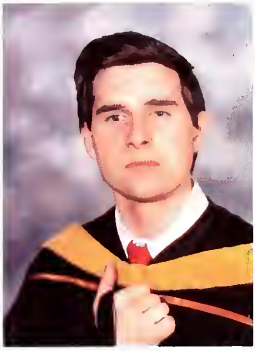

It didn't take much effort for Jason to get these students together for a picture. Who said that UMES students are camera-shy?

SGA Final Results: Simon Wins!

Final elections for 93-94 SGA offices were held on April 14, 1993. Current Student-at-Large, Billy Simon defeated Steven Simpson for the Student Government's top office. Temika Moore, a freshman from Pennsylvania, was elected Vice-President. As usual, the race for Miss UMES was tight; however, in the end, Tyra Harding prevailed.

Family Weekend '92 Better Than Ever!

There was no excuse for anyone to be bored during Family Weekend this year. Participants were able to take part in many activities. In addition to the Coronation, family games, and luncheons, the SGA sponsored a parade in honor of Miss UMES. The major entertainment in the parade was provided by the Washington High School Marching Band.

What is that building next to Kiah Hall? That building is the Henson Academic Extension Center. This newest addition to our campus will house the Hotel/Restaurant Management program, the Human Ecology Department, and Corporate Extension. Located in this building will be hotel suites, and a 500-seat conference room.

International Food Fair - October, '92

The first annual International Food Fair was held in the SDC during the fall semester. This event afforded students the opportunity to sample dishes from all over the world. Students and faculty members from the Philippines, Honduras, and the Caribbean prepared many exotic dishes, as did participants from the Middle East and Africa.

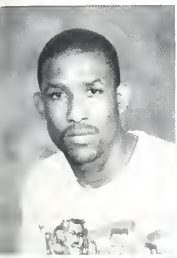

A popular item at the International Food Fair was the miniature egg rolls being served at the booth sponsored by the Philippines.

Acknowledging Those Who Excel

Where were the April Fools at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, April 1, 1993? They certainly were not at the Ella Fitzgerald Center for the Performing Arts. The 40th annual Honors Convocation was held to honor those who have achieved excellence in the classroom and the community. This year's featured speaker was UMES alumnus, Mr. David Carter.

Underclassmen on the rise!

These guys seem to be the life of the Winter Pep Rally. Because Princess Anne is in a rural location, sports activities play a large role in the extracurricular pursuits of many students.

In lieu of a missing drum, Grap decides to keep the beat to the song on a bench instead. John and an unidentified friend complete the band by singing along. Don't call us guys, we'll call you!

This student seems to be unimpressed by all the activity going on at the Pep Rally. Maybe she should have rented movies instead!

Dr. William P. Hytche

President
University of Maryland Eastern Shore

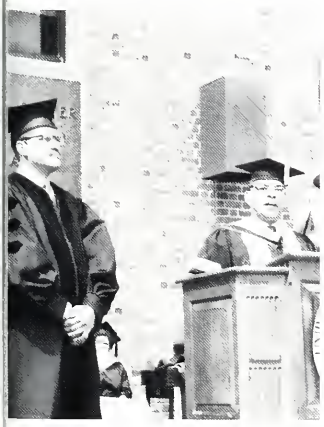

Dr. William P. Hytche was born in Porter, Oklahoma, and educated in the public schools of Fort Gibson and Tallahassee, Oklahoma. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Langston University, and his Masters and Doctorate degrees from Oklahoma State University. He has also studied at the University of Heidelberg (Germany), Oklahoma University, Oberlin College, and the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

He came to the University of Maryland Eastern Shore, then known as Maryland State College, in 1960 after having taught in the public schools of Ponca City, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma State University. Since coming to UMES, he has served as an instructor in Mathematics, Chairman of the Department of Mathematics, Dean of Student Affairs, and Chairman of the Division of Liberal Studies. He was appointed Acting Chancellor of Maryland Eastern Shore in July 1975 and was given a permanent appointment in June 1976.

Dr. Hytche was appointed by President Bush to serve on his Board of Advisors on Historically Black Colleges and Universities. He also holds memberships in numerous organizations, such as the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education, and the Delmarva Advisory Council.

Additionally, Dr. Hytche is the recipient of numerous honors and awards. These awards include listings in Who's Who in the World, and Who's Who in America. He was selected as the 1992 recipient of the Thurgood Marshall Educational Achievement Award, sponsored by the Johnson Publishing Company, Inc., and was recently inducted into the Oklahoma State University Hall of Fame.

Dr. Hytche is married to the former Deloris Juanita Cole, and they have three children: Pamelia, Jaqueta, and William, Jr., and four grandchildren.

Mignon Anderson

Just who is that mysterious woman who wheels her books around campus? She is none other than Ms. Mignon Anderson, an instructor in the Department of English and Modern Languages. Ms. Anderson, who is a gradnate of Fisk University, has just completed her second year of teaching at UMES. Though she has taught various courses in the department, she is perhaps best known for teaching Advanced Composition.

When she's not busy fielding calls on ext. 6552, Mrs. Birkhead can be heard Tuesday and Thursday nights on UMES' own WESM radio station. She also finds time to act as an advisor to the Panhellenic Council. How does she do it? We don't know, but we sure would like to find out.

What does Malik have cooking on the grill? Could it be Jerk Chicken? If this picture was taken around Dinner Theatre, then the answer is probably yes.

What is going on here?!?

Imagine this scenario: It's the final night of Dinner Theatre, and a whole semester's worth of hard work is about to come to an end. The last table has been cleaned, and all the food has been put away. What did the HRM majors do? They, along with several "honorary" HRM majors invaded the off-campus home of Rhonda Terry for their annual after Dinner Theatre jam. What was supposed to be a small gathering quickly became the "party of the year," attracting what seemed to be most of UMES, and a few curious onlookers from Delaware State College, too. The music, which was supplied by the legendary DJ Larry Mac, kept those who were able to stay on their feet dancing until 4 AM. Will they be able to top it next year? ...

Fashion Merchandising With a Flair!

We bet that you didn't know that UMES has its very own fashion museum. The Human Ecology Department's Historical Costume collection is located in the CDC.

Everyone in the fashion industry knows that the hottest styles can always be found in W magazine. Here, Ms. Shirley Hymon-Parker gives students some advice.

Though the team is down by one point, they show here that they can't lose easily.

Basil Jemmott is the Assistant Coach for the Volleyball team. He is a senior majoring in Hotel/Restaurant Management, and is an avid player himself.

MEET THE TEAM

MEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM

HEAD COACH

ROB CHAVEZ

Rob Chavez stood calmly and confidently June 15th, 1992, facing a room filled with sportswriters and University of Maryland Eastern Shore basketball boosters. Chavez had just been appointed as the 10th head coach in school history, and the first white coach at this historically black university.

As he excitedly talked about the future of UMES basketball, it became apparent that Rob Chavez and UMES were a perfect fit. Chavez brings a quiet confidence and comfortable presence with him to UMES. He also carries a winning reputation that is needed to reinvigorate a basketball program that has been down in recent years.

Chavez brings a five year Junior College record of 136-24. His reputation as a proven winner is based upon a solid basketball coaching philosophy and a belief in not only himself but also in those around him. Chavez has a unique ability to take a group of players with diverse backgrounds and weave them into a cohesive team with the results being, team achievement and individual success.

Chavez brought with him to UMES impeccable coaching credentials. Following a seven year stint as an assistant coach at three division I universities (Arizona State, Colorado State and Montana State), he was named Head Coach at Chemeketa Community College in Salem, Oregon. He continued an established tradition of success and coaching prominence at Chemeketa that included the past home of Rich Alderman (Portland Trailblazers).

Chavez posted the schools best ever won/loss percentage ... 85%, including a pair 30 win seasons and an undefeated 33-0 season in 1990-91. The season marked the first ever in Oregon College basketball history. Chevez's teams won two Northwest Community College Championships enroute to an impressive overall record of 136-24. An amazing 50 game winning streak was also recorded.

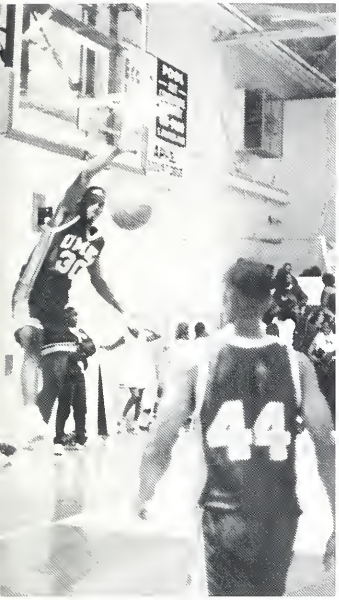

Chavez was named NWAACC "Coach of the Year" twice. His teams were noted for playing tenacious defense and using a fundamental running game that averaged 97 points a game the last 3 years.

People who know Rob Chavez realize his teams reflect his personality: A hard changing defensive philosophy which is predicated on hardwork and an up tempo electrifying offense. Those around him, both players and coaches, are quality individuals who seek success on and off the court.

Head Coach
KAYE DORRELL PINHEY

Since pitching at Miami University (Ohio) during the late 70's, Pinhey has forged out a coaching career that has taken him to several areas of the country before landing on the Eastern Shore. He has spent time solidifying his unique philosophies and techniques at other major institutions under such tutelage as the renown biomechanist and baseball authority Dr. Michael G. Marshall.

In his first year, Pinhey was able to increase the productivity of UMES and finish 4th in the conference with a .500 record (the highest finish in four years).

Among his other duties, Pinhey acts as the coordinator for the athletic academic support unit and teaches classes at UMES.

Student Assistant Coach
CHRIS RIDDLEBERGER

Chris returns as a 5th year senior and will graduate at mid-year but, has agreed to stay on to help and will be a valuable addition to the staff. Chris had a very successful 4 years at UMES. Chris played every position on the field at one time or another but, anchored Pinheys' Hawks at shortstop fulfilling all expectations. Chris is a true leader and will prove to be helpful to the 1993 Hawks in many ways. Chris will be called upon to fulfill the duties of a full time assistant coach and will perform well in that capacity.

OUTLOOK FOR 1993

The 1993 "Swinging Hawks" will again attempt to improve upon the previous year. With a demanding schedule and a shortages of personnel the hawks are still optimistic and look forward to a strong MEAC finish and overall finishing with a record number of victories. Several key players have returned to help insure the most productive year to date forthe University of Maryland Eastern Shore.

With the advent of a brand new facility, with the construction beginning at the conclusion of this season the prospects for UMES Baseball are bright indeed. The "Swinging Hawks" will have one of the niecest facilities in the MEAC and the geographical area. Thus, bring the program to the point of becoming competitive Nationwide.

BILLY WILLIAMS

Pitcher • Senior

Princess Anne, Maryland • Washington High School

6'0 • 160 lbs • Born 8-26-71

A Senior with seasoned maturity, Billy brings to our team the knowledge and drive to be the best he can be. A top performer in 1992, Billy has begun to master the techniques which will propell him to a great 1993. Billy will be called upon to do much for his team both on and off the field. His baseball "sense" is unteachable and will undoubtedly rub off and help this year's team to become the most successful in UMES history.

RICKY FARLEY

5'8½ • 152 lbs • Born 4-29-72

Ricky returns as a Junior posting progressively better years leading to this his pivotal season. Our most consistent performer, Ricky will have the opportunity to play on the prestigious Cape Cod League this summer. Ricky has the raw tools to draw much attention from Major league baseball scouts.

RAYNARD JOHNSON

First Base, Out Field • Junior

Baltimore, Maryland • Mergenthaler High School

6'4 • 205 lbs • Born 8-9-71

One of our two Seniors Raynard brings to this program what few players can. His "loose" existence keeps the team from becoming overwhelmed by the coach. I expect Ray to come into his own this year which will prove to be his finest to date. Ray will fill in as a catcher and do a great job for us as well as playing first base, the outfield, and DH. Ray is repleat with untapped talent.

Barcelona '92

Student Government

Did you know that the last time a woman presided over the Student Government Association was also the last time that a Democrat lived in the White House? In politics, 1992 was heralded as being "The year of the Woman." In keeping up with that sentiment, the student body elected Sharon Richards as the SGA's first female president in 14 years.

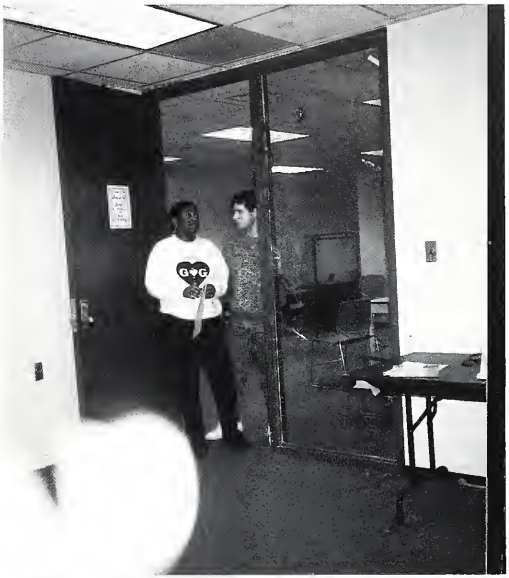

Sharon Richards is a senior majoring in Hotel/Restaurant Management. She hails from St. Kitts and Nevis, a tiny island in the Caribbean located 200 miles south of Puerto Rico. Her intense love for politics and government was her main reason for seeking an SGA position. In the future, Sharon plans to give UMES her continuous support. She would like to establish an Alumni Association in the Caribbean. She wants students to know that "this is a very good institution. The programs offered here are excellent, and every student needs to take advantage before it's too late. Together we can achieve anything!"

New and Improved!

The UMES Gospel Choir has seen its share of controversy in the last couple of years. Dissatisfied with the direction that the choir was being taken in, many members decided that they did not want to be a part of it anymore. Since Dr. Della Dameron-Johnson took over as director and enlisted the help of Gradnate Assistant Keith Sewell, the UMES Gospel Choir has enjoyed a resurgence in popnlarity. The 52-member choir has had a busy year. They have held bake sales and sponsored performances on campus, including a concert at the PAC on April 18, 1993. They're "Back on the Block!"

ΔΣΘ– Back on the Block

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded on January 13, 1913 at Howard University in Washington, D.C. As the largest historically black sorority, Delta Sigma Theta boasts a membership totaling more than 175,000 women worldwide. The sorority has established scholarships, a voter registration drive, and a Social Action Committee to support the Civil Rights Bill.

Student Security

On Thursday, November 5, 1992, 26 young men and women took the final step towards assisting University Police in monitoring our campus. Not new to many of us, they are the members of the Student Security Staff. They have been seen at weekend dances and a few pool parties working the doors, checking identification, and intervening in small disputes.

On hand to witness the taking of the oath were University President, Dr. William Hytche, Dr. Herman Franklin, Vice-President for Student Affairs, Mr. Frank Wiley, Director of Public Safety, and a host of faculty and students. Speaking at the ceremony was Major Ernest Leatherbury of the Maryland State Police. Major Leatherbury is the first African-American State Trooper to hold the post of Commander and Supervisor.

The Student Security Staff functions in an assisting capacity to the University Police. This group not only monitors parties, they also patrol the campus, keeping the University Police abreast of any unusual activities occurring on campus.

Supporters of the staff are all ears as the program proceeds. Students on campus call upon the Student Security Staff when they are in need.

Dr. Franklin, SGA President, Sharon Richards, and Dr. Hytche attended the ceremony to show their support for the students.

An "unofficial" member of the Yearbook Staff was Brian Dowtin. As Editor-in-Chief of the Hawks Message Newspaper, Brian was able to share pictures and articles with us.

Editor-In-Chief Yolanda Brandon spent the majority of her senior year working on this book. After graduation she plans to work in the Publishing industry.

The Coronation of Miss UMES

On October 16, 1992, Rhonda Deanna Terry was crowned Miss University of Maryland Eastern Shore 1992-93. This senior Hotel/Restaurant Management major is a dynamic young woman who hails from Montclair, New Jersey. She has participated in numerous campus activities including the Alpha Angel Sweetheart Court, the Student Government, the Motivation Homecoming committee, and the Eta Rho Mu club. As Miss UMES, Rhonda hopes to implement fundraising activities for the community, and spirit-raising activities for the campus. No matter what she chooses to do, this young lady's poise and effervescent smile are two attributes that will help our current Miss UMES represent our school well.

Rhonda surveys the Royal entertainment while comfortably resting on her throne at center stage.

Rhonda was visibly moved (right) by the support that she received from her family and friends. Her coronation was dedicated to her older brother, Roger, who was stationed in the Persian Gulf.

Tracey Hardin "strikes a pose" while the Campus Queens dance to "Always and Forever." She was a representative of the Student Rehabilitation Association.

Thomasina and Morinette view the festivities from their seats on stage (above). Mr. Ernest Satchell dedicated much of his time to planning and executing the design of this year's stage.

Karl paid homage to his friend Rhonda by reciting one of the lengthy works by poetess Maya Angelou. Many in the audience were moved by this heartfelt gesture that surprised even Miss UMES.

As the former Miss UMES looks on, Dr. Hytche jubilantly embraces Rhonda after crowning her Miss UMES. Rhonda is the 40th woman to hold the prestigious title of Miss UMES since 1953.

A celebration fit for a queen

SGA Student-at-large Billy Simon is the talented junior who choreographed the campus queen's dance. This year's dance, "Always and Forever" featured the queens in an elegant tribute to Miss UMES.

What is the significance of the coronation's theme? Rhonda believes that: "The past is a steppingstone to the future. Always cherish your past, but remember there is a future to come." The coronation was a spectacular event that took months of planning. Highlights of this emotional evening include a musical selection from UMES Class of '92 graduate, Keith Sewell, a modern dance by Jamir Howerton, and a slide show featuring friends and relatives who have had a positive impact on Rhonda's life.

HOMECOMING '93

Mike Harris of the UMES Fighting Hawks Basketball Team struggles to make this critical shot. Mike, a 6' 7, 215 lb. senior majoring in Art Education, was a key player in UMES's Homecoming victory against Delaware State College.

The Homecoming basketball game wasn't the only activity being offered this year. Other highlights included: Jello Wrestling, the Panhellenic Council's step show, the Homecoming Parade, and entertainment featuring rappers Gangstarr, and R&B singers Miles Jaye and Tony Terry.

Jello mania hits UMES at Homecoming

Miss Sophomore, Thomasina McCoy has nothing to cheer about as she is pulled down by one of her competitors (or is it one of her teammates?)

At times, it was difficult to identify any of the participants in the match. Twister anyone?

The UMES Homecoming Committee ventured into unknown territory when scheduling the Jello Wrestling match. No one knew how this event would be received in lieu of the notorious College Nite strippers, who have been banned from UMES. Looking for an innovative way to raise money, the committee gambled on this popular high school activity to pique the interest of the students on campus. Those who participated were thrilled to be a part of this exciting event. Can this mean that there will be a Jello Wrestling II next year? Only time will tell ...

Takima Dorsey and her opponent struggle to see who will be the first to fall down in the jello, though they both look like they already have.

Jello facts: SGA and Homecoming Committee members devoted many hours in the Somerset Hall kitchen to make the jello. What was the flavor? Cherry.

After all was said and done, the participants gathered for a picture with their referee Rhonda Terry, Miss UMES. A great time was had by all!

Oleta Adams did not "Get Here," but Zeta Phi Beta's Jackie Faison of Salisbury State University sure did. Here, Jackie sings her heart out. You go girl!

A flip of the cane is all it takes for the brothers of Kappa Alpha Psi to drive the ladies wild. Tony of UMES and Kevin of Salisbury State know just how to do it. Sexy, huh ladies?

How do you like me now? Phi Beta Sigma's Mike Smoot and Charles Smith appear to be "fatigued", as they vie for the first place title of being the best stepping frat on the yard.

No one said that it was going to be easy. Judging step shows and choosing the best is a hard job, but somebody's got to do it. Here, faculty and staff members of the university tabulate the scores.

STEP SHOW

On Friday, February 12, 1993, the Panhellenic Council held its annual Step Show. In keeping with last year's precedent, the event was held at the Wicomico Civic Center in Salisbury, though the anticipated large crowds never fully materialized. The competition was tight as three sororities: Alpha Kappa Alpha, Sigma Gamma Rho, and Zeta Phi Beta; and four fraternities: Alpha Phi Alpha, Kappa Alpha Psi, Phi Beta Sigma, and Omega Psi Phi contended for the coveted first-place prize. Those in attendance were impressed by the style, precision, and execution of the intricate, ritualistic drills (steps.) When all was said and done, the ladies of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. and the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. emerged victorious, proving that longevity is not a decisive factor in how well an organization steps.

Dr. John S. Toll has shaped higher education in Maryland and elsewhere as an administrator and a scholar. As chief executive of the University of Maryland System from 1978 to 1990, he directed the reorganization that expanded the state's higher education network into the present 15-campus system.

In 1978, Dr. Toll collaborated with Dr. William P. # EDITOR'S NOTE

As Editor-in-Chief of the 1993 HAWK, I would like to thank the following individuals for all that they did to make my life a little easier: Rona Bennett, Nicole Purnell, Jason Phillips, Tracye King, the SGA, Brian Dowtin, Dawnnette Douglas, Kim Prue, Karl White (for the introduction), the SDC staff, Frank White, and Sheila Benton. Special thanks to Dionne and Nikki for being there in the beginning, Jaz for being there in the end (even though I forced you to), Sean Meredith (who's ALWAYS there), my dad, for not being too overdramatic when pictures and layout forms started piling up in the dining room, and to Dean White and Ms. Woolford, for all of the time you took from your busy schedules to help me. Completing this book for publication (in 1993) was not easy, therefore, I am grateful to everyone who worked to make the 1993 HAWK Yearbook a success.
